

CITS1001 Object Oriented Programming and Software Engineering Student Survey April 2018

Please take a few minutes to provide feedback on your experience so far of CITS1001 and what you have learnt this semester. If you have any further comments, you may continue over the page. All feedback is appreciated; we will respond as best as we are able within the resources available to us.

1. What aspects of CITS1001 are you finding most useful, most enjoyable, most interesting? Why? What aspects of the unit are you learning the most from?

2. Are there any aspects of the unit that you would like to see changed? Why and how?

3. “I am motivated to work hard and to do my best in CITS1001.”
YES / NO / neither (circle one) Why or why not?

YES We are grateful for the valuable time that CITS1001 students spend to improve the unit. Your anonymous comments in this survey may be used for research purposes, and comments may be quoted in published papers.

NO If you do NOT wish your feedback comments to be used for research purposes, please circle NO on the left. We will respect your wishes.

Thank you for participating in this survey. Lyndon While and Arran Stewart (unit coordinators)
